

northward, to include most of the northeastern part of the county. The drainages in the escarpment region of the county belong to the Yadkin River system, except for escarpment areas